Dear Jonella,

Thanks for your letter. I wish I could have seen the baseball game with you. It sounds like that Mario is quite a pither.

I went to a baseball game last weekend with my school's martching band. Our seats were up in the upper balcony. They were very far from the field. Mr. Ines called them the "cheep seats." It was loud up there, but it was fun to hear all of the fans chante for their favorite players.

In between innings, we bought some hot dogs. I like mine loaded with onions and ketchup. In the end, our team didn't win. It was still really fun, but I admit that I would chuse to watch a basketball game any day. That's still my favorite sport!

Your friend,
Jim

There are six spelling mistakes in Jose’s journal entry below. Circle the misspelled words. Write the words correctly on the lines below.

January 12

My friend Maria left this morning. She and her family are moving to New Mexico. They were in a rusch to go. They had planned on leaving for months. I knew I would have to say goodbye to her.

The hole class signed a special card to give Maria. We also took a group foto so she wouldn’t forget us. All thirhty of us chipped in and bought her a new headfone set for her stereo. Now she can do her favorite thing in the car ride—listen to music.

After class on her last day of school, we agreed that we wouldn’t say goodbye. Instead, we would say “See you soon.” Something about that frase seems less scary. And I really do hope I get to see Maria again soon when she comes back to visit her grandparents.

Early in the mourning, Ben Franklin had a good feeling. He could tell it was going to be a starmy day and he needed lightning to test his idea. Ben was so excited he didn't even change his clothes. He just wore the same clothes he had warn yesterday.

His idea was that lightning is a large spork, like the ones he would get by rubbing his feet on the corpet and touching the doar handle.

That night, he was finally ready. He tied his kite string to a key and then he flew his kite. Up it went into the windy night and soon lightning struck it. To his delight, he saw a spark jump from the key. He knew he had been right.

There are six spelling mistakes in these paragraphs. Circle the misspelled words. Write the words correctly on the lines below.

Jill screeched when she saw the snake. Even though it was just a tiny garter snake, it still surprised her. She would have stepped on it if she had taken another step. It was coiled on the third stare. Jill could here it hissing. She could also see its tongue rolling in and out like a tiny carpet. Frozen, all she could do was stare at it. It sure did scare her, though she later realized that it did not appere angry. Maybe she did not need to feel such fere.

She backed down the stairs, never taking her eyes off it. She went to find her mother, who used to deal with snakes on the ranch. Her mother was in her office and came right away. When they got to the stairs, Jill was relieved to see the snake had left. But she was also disappointed. "Well, maybe it went into its lare," said her mother.

There are five spelling mistakes in the paragraphs below. Circle the misspelled words. Write the words correctly on the lines below.

The tree was tired of standing in one place all the time and never moving. The tree wanted to move. During the winter, the tree wanted to kirl up for warmth. In the summer, the tree wanted to swim and swurl through the water. Never in its whole life had the tree left its spot. It wanted to travel the earth.

One day a snake slithered by. The tree said, "I wish I could travel the world like you." "Really?" replied the sirpent. "Here I was thinking I'd rather be a tree. I wouldn't have to search for my food every day. And I could let my branches and leaves twirle around in the wind while I stood still."

At that, the tree started thinking. "That's true, I don't have to run around all the time, and that's pretty nice." From then on, the tree understood how lucky it was to be able to stand, and found a perpose in life.

My brother Sam could never make up his mind about what he wanted to be when he grew up. He just new that he wanted to help people.

At one time, he wanted to be a farmer. He liked sheep and lams. I think he would have liked herding them. He could have been a shepherd.

Sam also liked tools. He liked fixing his bike with a rench. He could have been a plumber. He would have liked helping people by fixing their leaky sinks.

When he decided to be a judge, I was sure that was the perfect job for him. He was always onest and fair. I had no dout that he would help a lot of people. You could just tell that he was going to make a difference, whether as a shepherd, a plumber, or a judge.

Proofreading

There are six spelling mistakes in the story below. Circle the misspelled words. Write the words correctly on the lines below.

Ana read an article in the newspaper about a fire at a house in a nearby vilage. No one was hurt, but the family lost all of their belongings. Many people were helping them out, but the children didn't have clothes and books for school.

She thought about how strang it would be to lose her own stuff. She was certain she could find a way to help out. Ana decided to arranje a way for them to get the things they needed.

She started asking people to help. She started with her parents. They gave her a few dollars. Then she asked her grandparents. They gave a little, too. Then she asked her teacher, and next her neighbors. Pretty soon, she had the courage to ask everyone—the polise and even the clowns at the local circus. When she collected enough money, her dad drove her to the store. She bought new clothes, books, and school supplies. She even bought some new toys. Then she loaded her purchases in a big box and got ready to drop them off to their new owners.

There are six spelling mistakes in the story below. Circle the misspelled words. Write the words correctly on the lines below.

At night, we'd sleep in the tepee. We made our beds by gathering moses. They were really soft. Our blankets were bison hides, which the hunters had shot with arrowes. They also had to use bows and arrows to protect our tribe from enemys.

The Plains was a beautiful place, with wide horizons and rolling hills. Later, it would be made into ranchs with cows and cowboys. But before that, there were no fences, just grass as far as you could see.

Indians were good parentes. They cared very much for their babyes. Mothers would carry them around on their backs and sing to them. The women wore dresses made of deer hides.

Proofreading

There are six spelling mistakes in the story below. Circle the misspelled words. Write the words correctly on the lines below.

With his desk top microscope, Jack could see the beauty of snowflakes. They were tiny, but had intricate designs. Each one was different, and they were all spectacular.

But Jack was sad because he knew that most people could not see the beauty of snowflakes. They did not have a microscope. It was like they had a blind fold on. So, he decided to under take a new project to let them see for themselves. For a long time, he was on the look out for a camera that could photograph snowflakes, but there was none. He'd have to make it himself.

He read a book case full of books about cameras and started putting one together. It took many tries, but when he finished his camera, he could take pictures of snowflakes and say to anyone he met, "See for your self how beautiful snowflakes are."

There are five spelling mistakes in this paragraph. Circle the misspelled words. Write the words correctly on the lines below.

Not only is Catherine my best friend, but she is also one of the silliest people I know. She is marrier than any of the merriest elves in the North Pole. When Catherine comes over, she thinks up the best games to play. Once we built a giant city made only out of penies. It was so funny. It was even funier when she pretended to be a giant monster and knocked all the pennies down. We have the best time together. Some people might feel sorry for Catherine because she is blind. They might think she cannot do all the things she loves to do. But Catherine and I think that is silly. We both know Catherine is one of the happiest kids in our class.

The Whale Voiage

We began our whale-watching trip in Seattle, Washington. I was being a big growch about the trip. First of all, it had been raining all day and I didn't want to be cold and wet. Then, on the car trip to the dock, I realized I had forgotten to bring any food. So now my stomach was making noyses and I was hungry, too. My parents kept telling me not to fron, but I couldn't help it. I didn't want to go whale watching. I wanted to stay home and play with my friends. When we got out on the water, I was miserable. Then I saw my first whale! A huge orca came out of the water about a thosand feet from our boat. It was incredible!

There are six spelling mistakes in this paragraph. Circle the misspelled words. Write the words correctly on the lines below.

What If...

Lazily the bawld eagle flew over the water. Looking down, he could see the huge coral reef just below the surface of the waves. Smaul fish darted everywhere. The eagle imagined what it would be like to be a giant shark. All day he would stalck the reefs. Whatever he cought would be his next meal. Just then, a cold breeze ruffled the eagle's feathers. In the air, he could smell that a great sqwall was coming in from the south. "Luckily," the eagle thawt, "I am a bird and not a shark. I can fly away from the rain instead of swimming all day in the water." With that, the eagle flew toward land.

A Studio Visit

As I approached the building, I was excited. A very populer painter, Anne Smith, had agreed to show me around her studio. I had never been to an artist's studio before.

A sign above the door said, "Entar here." I walked in and took the ellevater to the second floor.

As soon as the door opened, I could smell a weird odor. Anne met me in the hall and explained that the smell was from her oil paints. When we walked into her studio, I forgot about the smell. There were paintings everywhere! My favorite was a picture of Anne's daughtor standing in front of a huge ship in the harber.

Anne is a great painter. I am so glad that she let me visit her studio.

Dear Dr. Carter,

I am a pupel in the fourth grade. Our class is studying wild horses. I saw you on the news last night on Channal 5 talking about how our country should deal with mustangs. Since you are a lokil expert, I wanted to see if you would come and speak to my class.

We have learned a lot about these animals. They are a symble of the American West because they are free and run fast in wide open spaces. There is a totel of 45,000 wild horses left in the United States. We are also learning about how some groups want to save these animals.

I hope you can come and visit my class. It would be very speciol to us.

Regards,
Ava Recio

The Gold Rush Ghosts

Have you heard the tale of the lady
Who wears the cottin dress?
They offen say she's waiting,
And won't accept she's dead.
All day she sits on her woodun chair
Staring out to see
If her suitor has riden by outside.
For someday his bride she'll be.

But her true love hasn't provin
That he's a rightful man.
He's still searching for a gold mine
Like every commen man.
So she still sits and he still rides,
These two unhappy souls.
She never will see her love
And he never will find gold.

There are six spelling mistakes in this story. Circle the misspelled words. Write the words correctly on the lines below.

A Tael of the Two Deer

Once upon a time, there was a dou named Cinnamon. Cinnamon lived in a grand kingdom with all of her animal friends. Cinnamon was also very much in love with Printse Butternut. But Cinnamon and Butternut were very upset. Their kingdom was in danger. Nearby was a large human city. Every year the humans would build another road or roote closer to their kingdom. If a deer heard a car coming he would raise his taile to warn the other animals. Then one day, Cinnamon and Butternut had an idea. They got all the other animals in the kingdom to help them. Bowlder upon rock, the animals built a wall that would protect them from the cars on the roads. Cinnamon hoped that all the animals would be very careful and not cross the wall. That way the kingdom would remain safe.

Dear Grandma,

I just got back from the dinosaur museum! I was unsertan about how much I would learn there, but it did not dissapoint me.

When we walked into the T. Rex exhibit, I was unabell to talk. That was one huge dinosaur! We read the sign about how the scientists uncuvar the fossils very carefully.

We made only one mistepp. We did not get there early enough. The museum closed before we were done, even though we were going nonnstop the whole time. Mom promised we could go back soon. Maybe you could come, too!

Love,
Yoli

I realie love to build paper airplanes. My best friend and I make a bunch of them and pretend we are the Wright brothers, preparing for the very first airplane flight. We fold and cut each plane until it is perfect.

We wait for a suny, windy afternoon and take our handfull of planes to the park. We try each plane, one after the other, to see which one flies the farthest. We race to the other end of the park to see which plane won. We are brethles when we get there.

I am always hoping that one of my planes will be the winner. I feel such happyness when that happens.
